*Affirmation of our Faith: HC Q&A 84-85

Q&A 84 Q. How does preaching the gospel open and close the kingdom of heaven?

A. According to the command of Christ: The kingdom of heaven is opened by proclaiming and publicly declaring to all believers, each and every one, that, as often as they accept the gospel promise in true faith, God, because of what Christ has done, truly forgives all their sins. The kingdom of heaven is closed, however, by proclaiming and publicly declaring to unbelievers and hypocrites that, as long as they do not repent, the anger of God and eternal condemnation rest on them. God's judgment, both in this life and in the life to come, is based on this gospel testimony.

Q&A 85 Q. How is the kingdom of heaven closed and opened by Christian discipline?

A. According to the command of Christ: Those who, though called Christians, profess unchristian teachings or live unchristian lives, and after repeated and loving counsel refuse to abandon their errors and wickedness, and after being reported to the church, that is, to its officers, fail to respond also to their admonition—such persons the officers exclude from the Christian fellowship by withholding the sacraments from them, and God himself excludes them from the kingdom of Christ. Such persons, when promising and demonstrating genuine reform, are received again as members of Christ and of his church.

*Benediction

*Closing Song: Glory Be to the Father – R812

*Postlude

Worship Notes

This morning we witness the professions of faith of Brandon Kitchner, Josh Schouten, Kaytlin Smits, Miranda Vander Berg, & Mikayla Zonnefeld. What a blessing to hear these young people declare their faith in God.

Next Sunday we will be called to examine ourselves in anticipation of the Lord's Supper, the following week. At the same time we will hear about our shepherd king, our God who rules over us and gently guides us, even coming to our rescue when we are in need. The story of David, the shepherd, becoming king is such a highlight that many books include this event. David represents much of what our Shepherd King, our God, is. And God points to this by declaring that from David will come as a King who will rule for eternity. We celebrate this at we look to our Shepherd who leads us beside still waters and our King who rules over us and protects us even through the valley of the shadow of death.

Due to cancelling services two weeks ago our reading schedule has been moved back by one week. This means that the readings for this coming week will actually be what was listed for the previous week. We will continue going through the Bible. So, if you have been keeping up you are now one week ahead.

Verses of the week: <sup>19</sup> But the people refused to listen to Samuel. "No!" they said. "We want a king over us." <sup>20</sup> Then we will be like all the other nations, with a king to lead us and to go out before us and fight our battles." 1 Samuel 8:19-20

This week be in prayer for:

- Nicaragua: protests against their leader
- Churches that are looking to close their doors
- Church plants struggling to grow

Give thanks to God for:

- Warmer weather
- Rest
- So many forms of transportation

CREATION MOMENTS

Proclaiming Evidence for Truth
THIS WEEK'S CREATION MOMENT

Brain Food

Spikenard and saffron; calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense; myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices. – Song of Solomon 4:14

On a previous Creation Moments broadcast, we had good news for coffee drinkers – specifically, that the caffeine in coffee does not make a person dehydrated. The long-held myth that coffee is a diuretic was the product of 90- years-old bad science. Well, today we've got even more good news about something you might already be consuming at breakfast. Once you hear how feeding it to laboratory mice improved their learning ability, you might want to make it a regular part of your family's breakfast.

I'm talking about cinnamon. Kalipada Pahan from Rush University Medical Center said that consuming cinnamon "would be one of the safest and the easiest approaches to convert poor learners to good learners."

He reached this conclusion after his research team discovered that feeding cinnamon to laboratory mice increased the levels of a protein called CREB in the brain's hippocampus. This is the part of the brain that is known to be the key to learning.

Pahan reported, "We have successfully used cinnamon to reverse biochemical, cellular and anatomical changes that occur in the brains of mice with poor learning." With this in mind, the research team is now investigating to see if cinnamon might be useful in the treatment of people with Parkinson's disease.

Wasn't it good of our Creator to give us so many foods and spices that are not only a joy to eat but healthful to our bodies?
